

I respectfully request that the FCC refrain from preempting state law with respect to the issue of preventing unwanted telemarketing phone calls. Indiana's law has been quite effective and efficient. I do not want a lower standard applied to my case, and I do not believe anyone's best interest is served by federal intervention in a case where the state has exercised its authority responsibly and for the benefits of its citizens. Thank you.